Self mixing concrete trucks parts

Concrete mixer truck weight is affected by self mixing concrete truck itself weight, water tank weight, volume body weight, mixer weight and others. Concrete mixing transport trucks structure is composed of aggregate bin, water system, air system, cement system, hydraulic system and mix auger etc.

Volumetric concrete mixing trucks adopts a dual auger cement delivery, rack and pinion gate controls and a edge belt system for consistent mix designs within specifications value.

Self mixing concrete trucks also designed only used as concrete transport trucks without mixing system. If you are interested in these products, please contact Dasion.
